What's New This Year

- Added "all-time" win-loss records for the Turley Cup, dating back to when FPL finally added league cups (page 10).
- Dropped some hot bars (well, bar graphs) comparing the margins between 1st and 2nd place for the four seasons that have used classic scoring (page 11).
- Added a chart showing average finishing position by player, because Taylor wasn't extolled enough already in this thing (page 11).
- Added some AI art (because 2023), including a historical rendering of the original Turley Cup.

League Notes

- Market Correction—After a slight pullback last season, our upward trend remains intact thanks to a new league-high average of 2203.59, a 6.4% increase over our prev. best.
- Live Ball Era—If you finished 9th or better this season, then congrats: You logged one of the 25 highest-scoring seasons in league history. After this and last seasons' boons, only five pre-2020 seasons remain on this list.
- Can't Buy Anything With 2k These Days—Fourteen of us (82% of the league) finished with 2,000+ points this season, destroying the previous record of 11 / 65% in 2020/21.
- We've Gone Full MLS—This is the first time in league history four different players have won the Copa across four seasons. Parity reigns!

- Fresh Meat—This was the first season since 2017/18, and only other time, that the Copa and Turley champions were both first-time trophy winners.

Select Player Notes

- Jumpin' Jumpin'—Three players finished at least nine places higher than they did the previous season, a league record: David E. (10→1); Aaron K. (14→4); Michael C. (18→8).
- Double Denied—By securing his first Turley Cup (and trophy), Aaron K. denied David E. of the league's fourth-ever double. It was also the second-consecutive year David has lost in the Turley finals, a new league feat.
- Achievement Unlocked—After 12 seasons and 456 lineup-sets, Jacob F. is the first among us to reach 25,000 career points, enough to get you the giant rainbow slinky and a set of vampire teeth at Chuck E. Cheese.
- League Ninja—In what can only be chalked up to a small sample size and statistical quirk, Makenzi E. is now, on average, the second-highest-scoring player in league history despite never winning a trophy or finishing higher than fifth (...yet!).
- Enjoy the Europa League—Despite dominating the winter leg of the season (see pg. 7), Taylor K. missed out on fourth-place by a single point, ending his streak of four-straight top-four finishes.
- I Am STRUGGLING For Notes This Year—Although it's not entirely uncommon, I thought it was neat that Tyler K. finished in the same position as last year. If you discount league champions, this has only happened nine times previously—can he be the first to three-peat?

2022/23 Season Recap

Formula B(oro)

This is by far the most chaotic variance we've seen between the actual final standings and what they'd look like with F1's scoring system applied, granting points as if the standings at the end of each month were an individual race. Colored numbers indicate the change from actual finishing position.

If we can learn anything from this, I suppose it's that a title can be won with just a few hot months (so much like life, only try some of the time)

1	Taylor K. (99 pts.)	+4	11	Andrew E (56)	-2
2	Jacob F. (93)	+1	12	Nick V. (38)	—
3	Michael C. (92)	+5	13	Alex A. (34)	-2
4	David E. (90)	-3	14	Tim S. (25)	+1
5	Aaron K. (89)	-1	15	Patrick D. (18)	—
6	Brendan O. (81)	+1	16	Ryan R. (4)	-2
7	Casey D. (74)	-7	17	Daniel K. (2)	—
8	Makenzie E. (72)	-2
9	Steve F. (60)	+4
10	Derek R. (57)	—

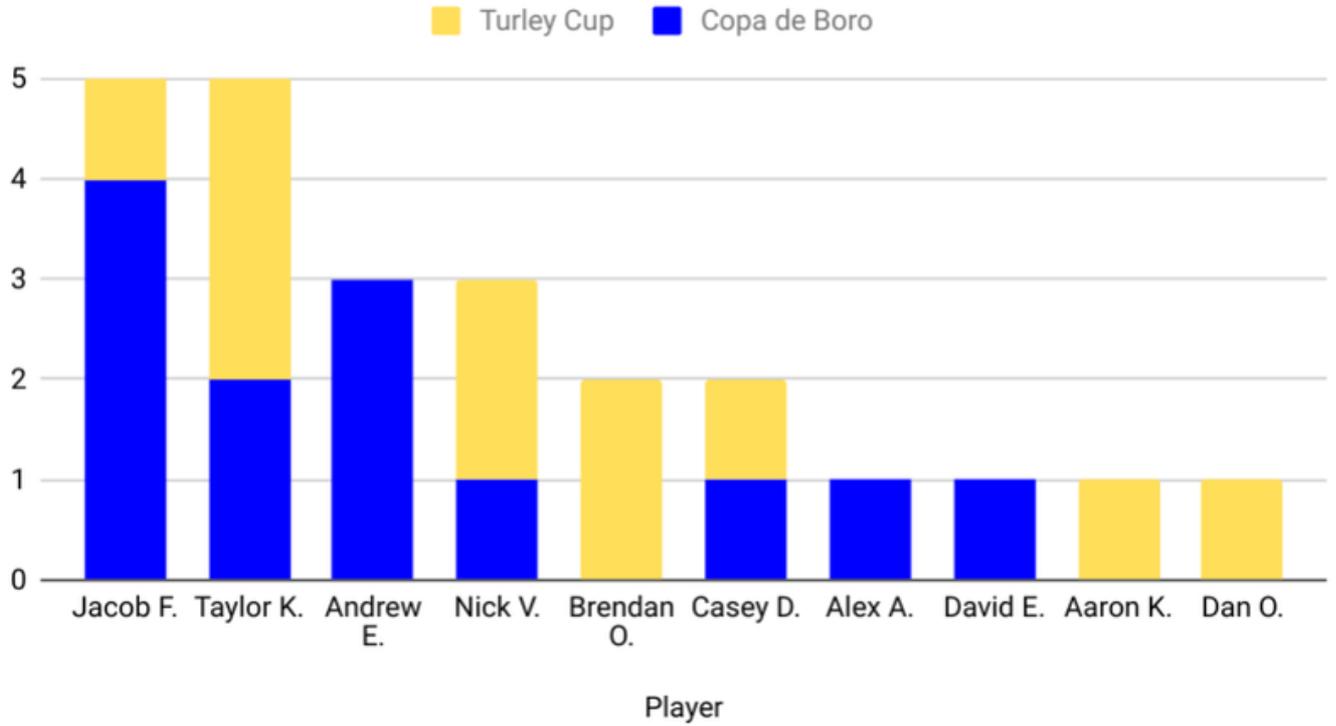

Month-by-Month

Taylor's bustout in the above makes sense under the microscope of the month-by-month results, as he went on an absolute tear by claiming pole position throughout the entire winter.

It's also fascinating, and a testament to the pointlessness of this exercise, that our champion only finished in the top three of a single month and still won comfortably by 100+ points.

The Copa's Journey

The Copa extends its stay in the Miami Valley at least one more year, stuffing its face with Cassano's, cabrewing on the Little Miami, and shouting "IT'S ALL A SETUP!" at the Pioneer Village actors.

Also, for scaling purposes I am infinitely grateful that Michael or myself never won whilst living in Asia.

- Total distance traveled: ~12,116 miles | Longest trip: 4,599 miles (Kailua, HI to St. Petersburg, FL)

Margin of Victory, Classic Scoring Seasons

Four seasons have used classic scoring, and the most recent produced our tightest finish yet.

Average Finishing Position by Player

Offers no added insight that you couldn't already glean from all-time average points by player, but I needed to fill this space with something. Only players that played in the most recent season are represented. Veteran players skew higher due to playing many seasons with smaller league sizes.

2023-24 Betting Preview

Please refrain from Venmoing me actual wagers this year, I don't know how to handle that in TurboTax.

Swami Sez: A source close to the source tells me Taylor is going to have a new(born) off-screen distraction this season, meaning the crown is ripe to return to the league's other Most Consistent Player.

Win-Place-Show (Last Year: 0/3):

1st—Casey D. | 2nd—Brendan O. | 3rd—Makenzi E.

A golden trophy cup, likely the Copa Libertadores, is displayed on a stone pedestal in a museum setting. The cup is illuminated by a spotlight, and the background is dark and textured. The text is overlaid on the image.

THE COPA WILL RETURN
